

Leicester,
Sept 29/74.

Dear Frank Garrison;

Will you inquire of your father,
& of any one else whom you ~~may~~ can see conveniently, as to who wrote (or took down from dictation,) Logan's Narrative (printed 1850.)

[2] Who wrote "A plea for the Slave addressed to all professing Christians in America"? (a tract of 16 pp. 12<sup>mo</sup>,
but no author, place or date of publication given)

[3] Does your father remember any person of the name of Fisher, who wrote &
published (1837) a "Life of Charles Ball"?
If so, what was Fisher's first name?

If you can reply to above without much delay, I shall be much obliged. There will be no need of writing, if you ascertain nothing.
I sh<sup>d</sup> be glad to have yr. reply mail not later than Thursday eve.
Very truly, Yrs
J. May.
